Seasonal Prohibition on Fishing for or Possession of Queen Conch in Federal Waters off St. Croix, U.S. Virgin Islands

WHAT IS HAPPENING AND WHEN:

NOAA Fisheries reminds the public of the upcoming seasonal prohibition on fishing for or possession on board a fishing vessel of queen conch.

- This annually recurring prohibition will take effect at 12:01 a.m., local time, on June 1, 2020.
- The queen conch harvest season will reopen at 12:01 a.m., local time, on November 1, 2020.
- The closure applies in federal waters east of 64°34' W longitude, including that portion of the Lang Bank area falling within those federal waters (see map below).
- Remaining federal waters are closed year-round to all fishing for queen conch.
- Possession of queen conch in U.S. Virgin Island jurisdictional waters (0 - 3 nautical miles) is prohibited June 1 through October 31.
- Possession of queen conch in Puerto Rico jurisdictional waters (0 - 9 nautical miles) is prohibited August 1 through October 31.

WHY THIS CLOSURE IS HAPPENING:

This seasonal closure protects queen conch when they are spawning (reproducing) and therefore more vulnerable to fishing pressure.

During the open season (November 1 – May 31), fishing for queen conch in U.S. Caribbean federal waters is only allowed in waters east of 64°34' W longitude.
